

I saw a picture of Michael Jackson in a newspaper in Milford, Connecticut about a year and a half ago, and it broke my heart. I knew I had to write something. Michael looked like a dead man walking. The ravages of homosexuality that had savaged his soul and spirit for years had now physically manifested in his body. Tormented by demons, he began to try and change (dress up) the monster he saw in the mirror. The more he tried to fix it, the uglier the monster became. Below is that article followed by an article recently written in response to the verdict of his trial.

The Tragic Truth about Homosexuality

11-22-03

With all of the advancements of the radical homosexual agenda this year, God Himself has begun to unveil the absolute horror and bondage of the homosexual lifestyle. He has done it through the tragic life of Michael Jackson.

It appears that Michael Jackson will finally receive his demon inspired death wish. He's been caught. In many and various ways he has been pleading with authorities and with this nation to stop him from his homosexual abuse of young boys. That's right! His TV interview earlier this year was an open invitation for authorities to apprehend him and stop the homosexual abuse he has been inflicting upon, who knows how many, young boys for years.

He can't stop himself. Homosexual lust has so totally absorbed and enslaved his mind, body, and spirit that he found no way of escape. He was afraid, very afraid, of what he might do to even one of his own children if someone did not stop him. He never minced words about enjoying sleeping with young boys. He made it startlingly clear. He was confessing, but no one was listening, unless it was to make a joke of him.

Michael Jackson is an open, professed, confessed, homosexual who is on the prowl for young boys to satisfy his own lust. The problem is lust always breeds more lust. Lust can never be satisfied. It can only be fed with one word – "MORE."

Anyone ever addicted to drugs, booze, or pornography knows the word – "MORE." Just a little bit is never enough. The addiction begins to consume all your time, money, and energy. It becomes the only thing you think of. It becomes your only "friend." It demands your absolute allegiance. It is a demonic murderer that cares nothing about you or anyone else. It just wants to be fed. It always brings with it death.

Michael Jackson is a slave, though no one sees his chains. Like the demoniac in Mark chapter 5, who railed among the tombs with no one able to control him, Michael Jackson is being ripped apart by demons, from within and from without. All the world can see it, yet he has no one able to help.

He has no hope to stop himself and utter despair has seized his soul. Yes, he is suffering the consequences of his self-chosen way, but don't we all? He is sick of the deep hurt he has inflicted, not only upon himself, but upon others to satisfy his unbridled, demonic lust. His family, psychic readers, counselors, and drugs have offered no escape.

He is crying out! He has been crying out, for someone to stop him before he begins to kill. He is not in control. The last thing he needs right now is for his parasitic friends, who love to kiss-up but never to wound (Proverbs 27:6), to try and convince him that he's really not such a bad guy after all. He is absolutely shipwrecked with no anchor for his soul. An all too understanding media and a politically correct judiciary cannot perform the surgery necessary to fix Michael either.

He needs a Savior. His only hope is Jesus Christ. Yes, like the demoniac in Mark chapter 5, he can be set free and restored to his right mind only by Christ. Jesus can take the tragedy of Michael Jackson's life, and the devastation he has wrought on the lives of others, and make it something beautiful. He is the only one who can.

Michael Jackson Trial

A Travesty of Justice

Betrayal and outrage are the only words that can adequately express my reaction to the verdict in the Michael Jackson case, yesterday afternoon. The jurors had no doubt that Michael was a homosexual pedophile. Shortly after the verdict one juror queried, "What kind of a mother would allow her child to spend time with Michael Jackson?" The jurors knew - but they found him "not guilty" anyway.

The judicial travesty that took place before the eyes of all America when Michael Jackson was found "not guilty" on all ten counts of child-molestation and conspiracy charges was shocking. It was a sign and a judgment upon the American judicial system from Almighty God Himself! We are reaping what we have sown.

We have arrogantly sought to remove God and His Word from every vestige of our lives and we are now reaping the consequences of that arrogance. No single entity in our government has been more complicit in this arrogant attack upon God Himself than the courts of our land.

What do you suppose God thinks about yesterday's decision? "Acquitting the guilty and condemning the innocent – the Lord detests them both." Proverbs 17:15.

We don't have to imagine, we simply need to read His Word. God detests those that acquit the guilty. Why is it so important to convict the guilty and acquit the innocent? That justice might be done. When justice is done, the heavens can be opened and God's mercy and grace can be poured out. But, without justice, there will be no mercy dispensed. NO JUSTICE – NO MERCY! It's just that simple. How can God pour out His mercy and grace upon a person who has just been declared "not guilty?" Who needs mercy if he isn't guilty?

When we minimize the justice of God, we also minimize the mercy and grace He will give. This is an unintended consequence, of course. Many of us feel that it is best to err on the side of an acquittal when contemplating the verdict in a trial. This is not so with God. He detests it!

Why? Because when a man is found guilty and admits the same, he can cry out to God in repentance, and receive the mercy and grace that only Jesus can give. This gives him both the desire and the power to overcome the sin that enslaves him. Justice, however, has to be done before mercy can be dispensed. But when a guilty man like Michael Jackson is acquitted, it does not drive Him to repentance, but to self justification and revenge. The mercy and grace he could have received from God is forfeited.

Michael will continue his homosexual acts upon young boys because he cannot help himself.

Justice has not been done, so any help that he might have received from Almighty God has been cast to the wind. If you ask questions like, "Why would he do something like this again after paying 20 million dollars in 1993 to get off the same hook?" then you do not understand the magnitude of Michael's problem. He is drowning in his own sin and is in desperate need of a Savior.

Michael's victims are suffering from the injustice perpetrated upon them by our judicial system. America is being turned into hell by God Himself as criminals (Michael Jackson) walk the streets and the innocent (Terri Schiavo) are condemned. Michael Jackson himself is suffering from the injustice done to him because today, he feels that having homosexual sex with young boys is fine. The Bible tells us in Romans 4:15 "...where there is no law there is no transgression."

We have become a lawless nation where justice cannot be done. Therefore the wonderful mercies of God and the riches of His magnificent grace will be forever withheld from us.

"So justice is driven back, and righteousness stands at a distance; truth has stumbled in the streets, honesty cannot enter. Truth is nowhere to be found, and whoever shuns evil becomes a prey. The Lord looked and was displeased that there was no justice." Isaiah 59: 14-15
